

My love,

Your fear is too much for me to bear, almost as unbearable as being apart from you. When you are ready to join me, you need only tell me and I will take you from this place, but you must trust me with your life. Learn these symbols, commit them to your heart as you do my name, and I will take you from this darkness that threatens to drain you of your light.